

Introduction To pTGC and UFO

pTGC and UFO are cryptocurrencies built on the fast, low-cost PulseChain network, designed to offer a fair and transparent alternative to traditional finance controlled by banks and governments.

With a focus on automation, they empower everyday people to build sustainable wealth through simply holding, emphasizing long-term growth and passive income without relying on constant new buyers.

The following is a brief summary of what these tokens are, how they work, and why they matter.

What is pTGC?

pTGC is the core token. It's a decentralized autonomous organization (DAO), meaning the community of token holders plays a key role in guiding its direction. With a fixed maximum supply, pTGC is designed to become scarcer over time, which can help increase its value as demand grows.

- Key Goal: Replace financial systems with one that rewards holders fairly and every transaction burns tokens permanently removing them from circulation.
- Unlike many cryptocurrencies that inflate supplies or rely heavily on hype, pTGC pays rewards based on real on chain activity.
- Its code is immutable and it has no developer fees.

How pTGC Works: The Basics

At the heart of pTGC is a 5% fee on every buy, sell, or transfer of tokens. The fee isn't a penalty; it's what powers the system.

Here's a simple breakdown:

- 2% goes to the DAO treasury for community initiatives like marketing, adding liquidity or supply reduction.
- 1% is distributed as reflections to all holders (automatic passive income in pTGC tokens).

- 1% rewards holders and stakers (extra benefits for stronger commitment).
- 0.5% buys and burns pTGC, reducing supply.
- 0.5% adds to liquidity with the chain gas token making trading easier and then burns the LP tokens.

This setup ensures that more value flows back into the system (3% for strengthening) than is paid out as rewards (2% for profit), which promotes stability. Rewards come from actual on chain activity, not printing new tokens, so the system stays healthy even if people sell.

- Earning Rewards:
 - Holding: Just keep pTGC in your wallet, and you'll earn reflections based on your share of the total supply.
 - Staking: Stake your tokens via the website for additional rewards. No fixed lock-ups, you can unstake anytime with a small fee and access your rewards any time.
 - Time Locking: Optionally, people can lock tokens for set periods (tiers based on duration) to earn even more from penalties from early unlockers. Early unlocking costs 30% of the locked amount, which is distributed to all other lockers.

Automated market maker (AMM) bots play a key role in the reward system by maintaining balance in token pairs during market volatility. Their trades increase fees and activity, which in turn deepen liquidity, reduce circulating supply through burns, and deliver rewards to holders—driving sustainable, long-term value.

What is UFO?

UFO is the companion token to pTGC, acting as an amplifier. It boosts trading volume and liquidity across related tokens, especially those in the Richard Heart ecosystem (like PLS or PLSX). With a capped supply UFO enhances pTGC by creating synergies that benefit both.

- Key Goal: Increase activity and rewards in the ecosystem.
- It turns volatile price swings into opportunities, generating income from AMM bots and user trades while burning supplies of both UFO and pTGC.

How UFO Works: The Basics

UFO has a 6% fee on buys, sells, and transfers and is structured to reward participation:

- Fee Allocation:
 - 1% is paid to reward holders.
 - 1% buys and burns UFO.
 - 1% buys and burns pTGC (reducing pTGC's supply even more).
 - 3% is paid to reward liquidity providers in PLS (PulseChain's native token).

Why Buy The Grays Currencies?

pTGC and UFO are part of a movement toward equitable finance. For no-coiners, they're like a savings account that grows through on chain activity without banks taking cuts. Together they form a high-yield ecosystem with real utility and no inflationary tricks. The focus is on sustainable passive income where people can sell rewards without hurting the system.
